Snow was falling heavily on the ground.
The place was completely covered in snow. I hastily put on my coat and gloves and whooped loudly as I ran out the door. I always go sledging when it snows so I immediately ran into the garage to get my sledge. To my disgust I noticed that somebody had carelessly spilled paint all over it. I carefully wiped it off before running up Windy Hill holding the sledge tightly. My friends were already there and clearly having a good time. I spoke with them briefly before carefully positioning my sledge on the slope. One of my friends suddenly jumped onto my sledge and was gone. I shouted crossly as the sledge went smoothly down the slope.
